Dear Ms. Reilly,

I refer to your letter dated 12 September last concerning the promotion of eco-friendly bus shelters.

This design feature of the bus shelters in Utrecht, has come to our attention through a number of sources and avenues and we would certainly consider this idea as part of the improvements we are making to the public realm under the BusConnects programme.

However, we note that the design and specification for the shelters that we are currently rolling out under our contract, with our bus shelter contractor, does not include for a design provision similar to Utrecht model. This would require a new tendering process, with a higher shelter specification and increased maintenance requirements. In the meantime we will monitor the on-going success of the Utrecht model and research the technical requirements to deliver this type of model.

Yours sincerely

Anne Graham
