St. Luke's Church of Ireland, Peamount Hospital, Historic Structure Project

St. Luke's Church at Peamount Hospital was the former Church of Ireland Church. The timber framed corrugated iron clad church was constructed in 1913 to serve patients and staff of the Sanatorium.

The Historic Structures Fund (HSF) is one of the grant Schemes that the Department of Housing, Local Government and Heritage fund, and is focussed on restoring historic structures and buildings for the benefit of communities and the public. In addition, refurbishment or reuse projects share a clear residential or community benefit.

Through the HSF the Council secured €50,000 under Stream 1 of the Scheme for essential repairs and smaller capital works for the refurbishment and conservation of Protected Structures. St Luke's Church has been in use as a hospital archive storage space in recent years. The cladding and structure had deteriorated with extensive rust on the roof sheets, gutters were missing and vegetation had penetrated the structure at the north gable. Funding from the Historic Structures Fund 2022 has allowed the necessary funding and support for essential repair and conservation of the structure for long-term use.

The works under Phase One were carried out under HSF 2022 and included, external repairs to walls, roof structure, structural interventions and repairs to the original corrugated iron roof and wall sheeting and upgrading and repairs of windows and doors.

Energy upgrading measures to provide insulation to the walls and roof were also carried out. Repair to the original corrugated iron sheeting roof and walls were carried out by specialist conservation contractor which included a paint analysis to identify the original paint colour for repainting of roof and wall corrugated sheets.

External works were completed during 2022 and Phase 2 works have now commenced. Peamount Hospital were successful under HSF 2023 securing further grant funding of €40,000 to complete Phase 2 works which includes interior repairs and energy efficiency upgrading works, which will allow the building to be adaptively reused as part of a staff training facility within the hospital complex.

Traffic Calming Schemes 2023

The Council's transport team intend to deliver several Traffic Speed Calming Schemes across the County during 2023. These schemes will include several types of vehicle speed control measures, such as; junction radii tightening, the installation of chicanes, new central islands, road width reduction build outs, additional signing and lining, raised tables and ramps. The purpose of all these measures are to slow vehicle speeds to create a safer environment for all road users. There will be a consultation process undertaken for each proposal consisting of the following:

1. Electoral Area workshops with local Councillors to decide the proposed traffic calming options to go to public consultation.
2. Conduct a Section 38 process under Roads Act 1994, whereby, the proposed list of interventions will be advertised in the prescribed manner in the Act and on the SDCC consultation portal. In this process submissions from the public will be sought on each proposal.
3. The schemes with the most public support will be constructed by the end of 2023.

Healthy South Dublin

The Department of Health have developed the Healthy Ireland Outcome Framework in response to several significant public health challenges, including significant projected increases in levels of preventable chronic disease and growing health inequalities. Round 4 funding has moved to an outcome-based approach with multi-annual grant agreements.

Healthy South Dublin's aim is to improve the Health and Wellbeing of all those who live and work in the County. It caters for all ages and abilities, with a focus on areas where there are health inequalities.

Further to approval by Department of Health, Pobal have confirmed South Dublin's grant award of up to €198,122.42 under the Healthy Ireland Fund 2023-2025. The funding has been provided for activities and to fund the implementation of a three-year strategy in South Dublin that contributes to the Healthy Ireland Outcomes Framework as part of HIF Round 4 2023-2025. Healthy South Dublin selected two outcome indicators to focus on over the period 2023-2025.

1. 'Decrease in unconditional probability of dying (aged 30-70) from cardiovascular diseases, cancer, diabetes or chronic respiratory disease'. The target groups include disadvantaged men and women, general population, and people with chronic illness. Proposed projects involve providing health screening checks and to provide more targeted opportunities for people to engage in healthy lifestyle behaviours at local level.

2. 'Increase in percentage of people aged 50+ who feel safe to walk alone after dark in their locality'. The target groups include people living in disadvantaged communities, older people, and the general population.

All projects will be developed and delivered in partnership with key agencies operating within South Dublin County.

Youth share views on Community – Local Economic and Community Plan

Transition year students from schools in Tallaght and Clondalkin and members of Comhairle na nÓg recently took part in a series of poverty consultations. Young people provided insight into what they felt was going well in their communities and offered solutions to a variety of concerns. Key recommendations were offered on several themes, including housing, healthcare, education, community services and community safety. The feedback collated from these consultations will ensure that young people's feedback and experiences will contribute to the development of the Local Economic and Community Plan.

Youth consultations were organised in alignment with the Sláintecare Healthy Community areas in Tallaght and Clondalkin – led by SDCC Sláintecare Local Development Officers. These events were arranged following a consultation with service providers in October 2022, in partnership with CYPSC, Institute for Public Health, Blue Skies - Clondalkin, Archway and the Childhood Development Initiative – Tallaght).

Lucan House

South Dublin County Council has reached agreement in principle to purchase Lucan House and accompanying lands of 30 acres from the Italian government. Lucan House has been owned by the Italian Government and used as a diplomatic residence since the early 1950's. The history of the Demesne which dates back to 1560, is noted for its links to General Patrick Sarsfield, who was born in the original castle on the grounds and is immortalised by a sculpture in his memory on the grounds designed by James Wyatt.

The house itself, described as a pure Palladian villa, was built in 1772 by Agmondisham Vesey, in conjunction with William Chambers. The purchase is a strategic investment in the history, heritage, and amenity value of the property. It is expected that the formal conveyancing will take a number of months.

Mayor opens new Playspace at Dodder Valley Park Old Bawn

The Mayor of South Dublin County Council, Cllr. Emma Murphy officially opened the new Playspace at Old Bawn, Dodder Valley Park on Thursday 25th May 2023.

The Mayor was joined by local Councillors, staff of South Dublin County Council, and guests to celebrate this event.

Speaking at the event Mayor Cllr. Emma Murphy said: "Play is recognised as a vital activity for healthy child development. Children also need time in nature for their physical and mental wellbeing. Integrating a playspace into this well used park has brought more life into it right throughout the day."

The playspace was delivered via SDCC's capital budget and is the first of three new playspaces for Dodder Valley Park, as well as the interconnecting play trail.

The playspace at Old Bawn also incorporates a toddler specific playground, which was chosen and voted for by members of the local community, through the 300k Have Your Say Public Participatory Budget process.

The playspace was designed and installed by Kompan Ireland and focuses on the play needs of all children and has a specific area for toddlers and younger children. The playspace consists of two flat swings, two cradle swings, a basket swing, a balance trail, a wobble belt bridge, a slide, and a sand play area.

Water Safety Innovation

More than 90 sensors have been installed across South Dublin County Council's rivers and lakes to alert line managers when ring buoys are tampered with or go missing.

In 2020 Smart Dublin in partnership the four Dublin Local Authorities engaged with technology developers to commence a project which would look at issues arising with the management of ring buoys, to ensure that ring buoys could be in position and ready to save lives if required. The scope of the project involved the development of a low-cost sensor to be provided in the ring buoy housing that would alert local authority staff when the ring buoy was tampered with or missing. The sensor is paired with a map-based platform & mobile phone app which provides real time monitoring of the ring buoy status and allows staff to digitally record their weekly inspections of the ring buoys, ropes, and housing.

Last October, the project was launched with Water Safety Ireland, the Dept of Rural and Community Development as well as 8 local authorities which included all four Dublin Local Authorities. This has resulted in over 600 ring buoys across these local authority areas being connected to the monitoring system.

65th Anniversary of Tidy Towns

The Tidy Towns competition has a unique place in Ireland's culture. The competition commenced in 1958 and has since become Ireland's best-known sustainable and environmental initiative. In its first year the competition received 52 entries but has grown year-on-year reaching a record of 924 entries. Right from the start, the primary focus of Tidy Towns was to encourage communities to improve their local environment and make their area a better place to live, work and visit; this creates a 'sense of place' for those living in the area.

As of January 2023, the administration of the Tidy Towns Competition and grant for South Dublin County Council, has moved to the Environmental Awareness Section.

Round 1 Seed funding (up to €2,000) went live on the 10th of March.

Round 2 Annual Program Grant is for practical projects to improve entry in the Competition and is now live. A maximum budget of €8,500 is offered.

Fast Fashion Documentary

Since the mid-2000s fast fashion has changed the fashion industry. Where traditional two collections were produced every year once, today fashion companies produce 50-100 micro-seasons annually. Consumers have, so far, embraced this throw away culture, but do we really know what impact this is having on our world.

South Dublin County Council together with the other Dublin Local Authorities and the Eastern Midlands Regional Waste Office are developing a documentary to highlight the issues around fast fashion. Fast Fashion: The Reality, the Impact, and the Solution is a short 20-minute documentary aimed at the men and women of all ages who buy fast fashion.

The documentary gives a uniquely Irish perspective and includes contributions from Carrie Ann Moran, Circular Fashion Ireland Consultant and Arran Murphy, Rediscover Fashion Programme Manager at the Rediscovery Centre.

The complicated supply chains in the globalised fashion industry has resulted in poor environmental practices at every stage and means that the industry is now a significant contributor to climate change.

The documentary is due to be released over the summer 2023.

All Tidy Towns groups were invited to attend and information webinar on 24th May, where guest speakers were Gavin Harte from Education for Sustainable Development, who spoke about Tidy Towns and Sustainable Energy Communities, Ian Jackson our new Community Climate Action Officer who gave an overview of the new climate grant. We were also lucky to have Cormac McCarthy who is a member of the very successful, competition winning Ennis Tidy Towns group. Cormac's input was invaluable, as not only is he a member of a winning Tidy Towns group, but he is also a competition adjudicator. He gave a presentation on Community, Sustainability & Biodiversity - the cornerstones of Tidy Towns.

Speaking at the event, the Mayor Cllr Emma Murphy said "I was delighted to recognise the 40th Anniversary of the Tallaght Person of the Year Awards in County Hall, Tallaght. The longevity and commitment of the event is something that I felt needed

Lots of voluntary effort can ebb and flow over a long time, but our community awards have not only survived, but they have grown and thrived. This is because of the steadfast commitment of the volunteers on the TCC committee today and in the past.

Grange Castle Masterplan

The vision for the Masterplan for Grange Castle West, including remaining development lands in Grange Castle is to draw on the concept of creating a collaborative business community that is well integrated with the surrounding local area. The Masterplan will guide the future development of the lands, which will support the creation of up to 12,000 jobs in one of Ireland's premier business parks.

Context

The site is zoned Enterprise and Employment, and its use will reflect this. In close proximity are the Strategic Development Zones (SDZs) at Clonburris and Adamstown, which will see a large increase in local population. The use of the site will target high employment densities to bring a corresponding increase in local job opportunities. Development should also complement the existing business park lands at Grange Castle and Grange Castle South and the masterplan includes existing available development sites in both. Their proximity offers the opportunity to tie the three parks together to form a coherent economic neighbourhood. The ongoing Masterplan for 12th Lock can provide supportive public amenities such as retail, hospitality and recreation.

Key Objectives

Diversity of employment types will be an important ingredient in the success of the business park and will help to create a resilient local economy, foster innovation, and yield enhanced networking opportunities. By providing a mix of industries and business types, the park can encourage interaction between businesses of different scales and expertise, supporting the development of emerging start-ups and SMEs. This will stimulate growth and investment, creating a vibrant business ecosystem that will contribute to the development of the wider community. The park sits within reach of 7 Third Level Institutions which provide a steady supply of talented individuals to the local workforce.

Accessible & Served Sites The lands contain a new access road, integrated services, landscaped pedestrian and cycle paths, and a feature lake. A variety of fully serviced sites ranging in size are available, which will support inward investment. With a growing residential population of 48,000 people with the development of the neighbouring SDZs, the new masterplan will support public amenity and job opportunities.

Connectivity & Movement

There is extensive existing cycle and pedestrian infrastructure that links the site entrance to the train station at Adamstown, the LUAS Red Line, the adjacent SDZs, and the Grange Castle business parks to the east. The movement strategy will extend this infrastructure through the park and a link will also be made to the Grand Canal Greenway. Future public transport connections to the Adamstown and Kishoge train stations will also be pursued.

With the preparation of the masterplan, a new brand identity for the business park has also been established, which will ensure that there is a contemporary look and feel to the business park from a marketing perspective, as the masterplan is being delivered. The future has never been brighter for Grange Castle and the Council looks forward to supporting the creation of up to 12,000 jobs in the County.

Movement strategy will extend key infrastructure through the park

Blackhall Green, Dublin 7, are engaged as project consultants, they have worked closely with South Dublin County Council in getting the project to this current stage and assisted with the design and public consultation of the Part 8 which was passed by SDCC in February 2022. The part 8 was part of an intensive public consultation process carried out in the area that included postal and online submission of ideas and comments as well as park-based meet and greets. These discussions informed the Part 8 proposals that were subject to full public consultation. The design was also informed by the masterplan proposals previously approved by the Council.

As Corkagh Park is a historic landscape, careful attention will be paid where the works involve excavations. Some archaeological works were recently completed as part of the enabling works for the Corkagh Park masterplan. Archaeological investigations are required to avoid impacting on anything that might remain under the ground. Care has been taken to ensure that all proposed elements respond to and work in harmony with the strong cultural heritage found in the park.

Contracts signed for €5 Million investment in Corkagh Park

Corkagh Park is a 120 Ha site that is of historical and cultural significance to Clondalkin locally. The existing park boasts a wealth of facilities such as football pitches, a newly redeveloped playground, baseball pitches, cricket facilities and purpose-built road cycling track.

McAvoy Contracts Ltd have been successful in the recent tender process for the construction of the current phase of works, McAvoy Contracts Ltd are a civil engineering company based on Banbridge Co. Down and are looking forward to working on this project on behalf of South Dublin County Council.

The construction of the planned improvements to Corkagh Park will commence during this Summer. The works are part of the delivery of Corkagh Park masterplan which previously saw the renovation of the large play-space, which has proven to be hugely successful. These changes seek to address the visitor experience in the park in terms of improving legibility and wayfinding as well as enhancing the park's offering as a local and regional destination.

A new centre 'hub-zone' of the park that serves as a destination has been identified. It will be well-linked to car parks and other components adding to the sense of place for local and regional visitors.

The works will deliver additional welcome improvements to this highly popular park and will include:

- Construction of a new 'hub zone' will serve as a focal point at which all areas within the park meet and interconnect and includes a Café, multi-use events space with a stage and hard-standing area; soft-landscaping with formal seating areas; picnic areas;

amenity lawn; mounds; incidental play area; and planting.

- Upgrading of St. John's Wood Car Park and Green Isle car park and Outer Ring Road entrance with future-proofing for EV charging points.

- Provision of wayfinding and signage installations; with arrival beacons at St. John's Wood Car Park and Green Isle Car Park and Outer Ring Road entrances.

- Enhancements to the Fairy Woodland Trail including new play features; new seating; new pedestrian link from the lakes.

- Proposed planting, furniture and other landscape works.
